Area of Expertise

I specialize in the sale of investment properties throughout South Carolina as well as transactions in land, office and retail properties in the greater Charleston area.

I simplify complex challenges for my clients and all parties involved in a transaction. I believe that everyone's time is their most valuable commodity. I strive to work harder so clients can work smarter. I am open and honest with my clients and leave no doubt that the job is going to get done.

Having a vision for an investment opportunity is crucial. Our investment team can identify investment opportunities that have the potential for lucrative returns that may have been overlooked by investors for a variety of reasons.

The most rewarding part of my job is exceeding expectations and experiencing the satisfaction of clients who have achieved success.

As a former intelligence professional in the special operations community, my job has always been to translate the country's brand, business and objectives into solutions. I have taken the lessons garnered on the battlefield and adapted them to the real estate market.

Business and educational background

After 8 years of service in the military, I am currently attending the College of Charleston majoring in commercial real estate finance. I joined Colliers as an intern in 2022 before transitioning to a full-time Brokerage Associate. My first glimpse into the commercial real estate industry ignited a fire that had been extinguished since leaving the military. I have since dedicated myself to becoming the best commercial real estate professional I can be.

Community Involvement

I am excited to become more involved in the Charleston community as my career grows. The Charleston market is one of the most unique and diverse markets in the Southeast. I have found success sustaining an equilibrium between the southern laid-back style of the Lowcountry and the fast-paced life of the big city. Charleston has found a way to weather the storm and continue to flourish in a time of great uncertainty. With constant population growth and job absorption comes a constant influx of new commercial real estate opportunities.
